Are we flood ready for a changed climate?

John Curtin
Executive Director of Flood and Coastal Risk Management
@johncurtinEA

22 March 2018
Day 3 – Flood & Coast 2018
My Induction!
So what I have learnt in my first two years?
“Flooding is a human story”
‘We are a nation ‘nudged’ by events’
‘The cascade affect’
‘We still face an awareness problem’

One in ten Brits have a zombie plan

To what extent do you agree or disagree

"Protecting my home from a flood is my responsibility."

strongly disagree

strongly agree
…..and an illustration
So how do we get flood ready ahead of the changing climate?
1. 25 Year Environment Plan – the strategic intent…

‘In 2019, we will update the national flood and coastal erosion risk management strategy, looking to strengthen joint delivery’
2. What is this nation's balance between resistance and resilience
3. Building climate resilience into everything we do – a case study...
And there is hope...

I am afraid of losing my Xbox, so I did, I would have too much spare time.

In a flood I would... First save my Nintendo, then call 999.
“It’s all of our job to whisper flood in as many ears as possible.”
Thank you

John Curtin
Executive Director of Flood and Coastal Risk Management
@johncurtinEA

22 March 2018
Day 3 – Flood & Coast 2018
QUESTIONS TO THE PANEL

You can also ask questions via Slido
Go to: www.sli.do
Enter event code: #FC18